Financial explanation

Community Center Drive in full swing

The fund-raising drive for the Carmel Valley Community Center is in full swing. Most of the organizations in the Valley are cooperating and joining in the house-to-house coverage.

Facts behind the dire need of the Community Center are being pointed out by the volunteer workers.

The Community Center which consists of the Center building, the pool, bath house and adjacent property is located on Ford Rd. The pool and bath house are operated by the Carmel Unified School District which charges 35¢ per swim per person or $10 for a family membership for the season. The Community Center charges a surtax of 15¢ per swim or $25 donation for the season.

The original building was built and paid off by donations and Century Club pledges. When the swimming pool was built the property was mortgaged for $20,000 of which $17,262 is remaining. The payments are $173 per month.

The bath house was built with Crosby Fund help plus donations at a cost of $11,689.

Taxes on the property are $924 per year. A budget of $5,- 500 was necessary last year to cover operating expenses, custodial service, maintenance and supplies plus $700 in bills left from the previous year.

The Center receives no help from the United Fund or Community Chest drive.

Last spring's membership drive met with less than a 15% response and collected $2,076 for the Center. The shortage for the remainder of the fiscal year is about $1,300 and no major maintenance or landscaping has been done for two years.

Therefore a door-to-door canvass of the community is necessary to meet expenses.

Car rams power pole Sunday

Electric power was off from two hours in some sections to as long as ten hours in others on Sunday morning after a power pole at the corner of Via Contenta and Carmel Valley Rd. was rammed about 2 a.m. The pole carried a 60,000-volt line running to the Laureles Substation on the Valley Rd.

The car, driven by Gary Allen of Via Contenta, was covered with the wires, but he escaped with only minor injury treated by his own physician.

According to the CHP, Allen was traveling at a high rate of speed when he failed to negotiate a curve and crashed into the pole, causing it to shear off at the top. The wires fell into a grassy area and started a small fire which was extinguished by the CV Volunteer Fire Dept.

Travel on the Valley Rd. was halted while a crew removed wires. PG&E crews worked all Sunday morning replacing the pole and putting lines back in service.

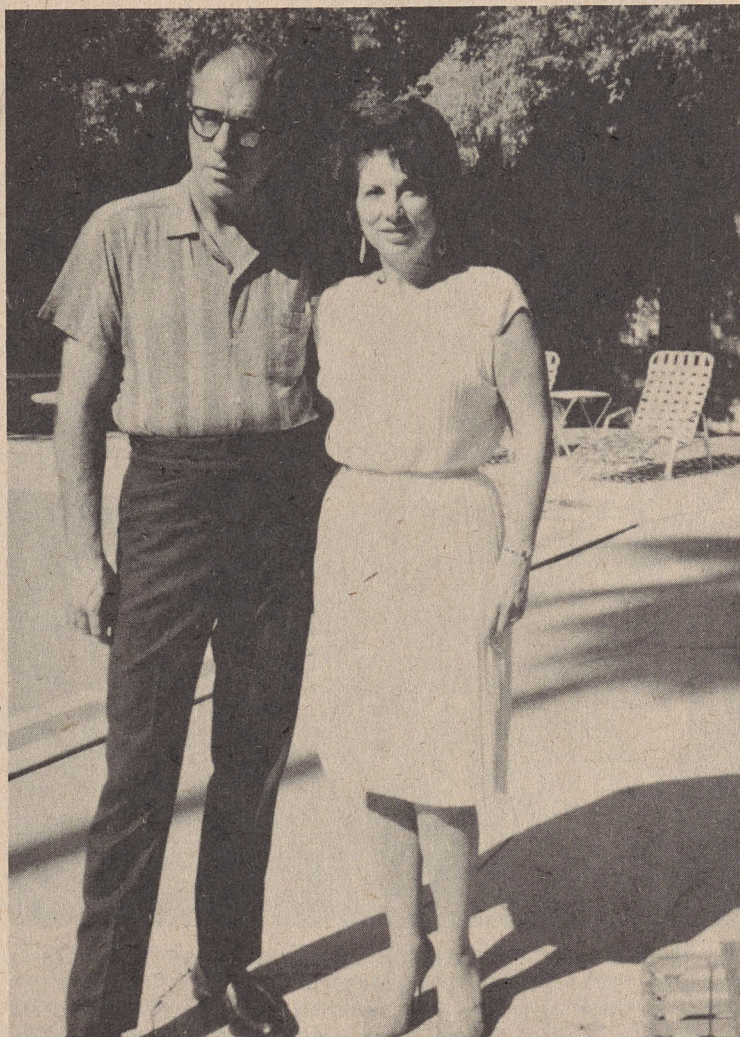

Electricity was restored in the Rancho Rd. area after several hours, in Robles del Rio between 7 and 7:30 a.m. and on Lilac Lane it came back on at 7:30, and was off again while the crews worked from 9:30 to 4:30 p.m. Sunday afternoon.

Valley firemen to attend crash training school

Thirteen Carmel Valley firemen will take part in an extensive aircraft crash and rescue school at the U.S. Naval Auxiliary landing field on Oct. 20-21.

Training in extinguishing gasoline, oil and butane fires will be included in the two-day school. Firemen from Carmel Valley, Carmel, Monterey, Seaside, Marina, Pacific Grove, Watsonville, Castroville, Salinas Rural and Salinas, and Carmel Highlands will participate in the event.

Squaw Valley couple buys Lodge

JOHN AND EILEEN BULMER

Mr. and Mrs. John Bulmer, the new owners of Los Laureles Lodge, are luxuriating in the thought of a winter without eight foot drifts. For the past eight years they have been at the north shore of Lake Tahoe where they were the owners and operators of the Squaw Valley Inn and also were partners in a group of motel and townhouse units at Alpine Meadows.

John and Eileen have twin daughters who are married and living in Sacramento. (Eileen said, "Don't print how old they are," but we don't think anyone would believe it anyhow to look at her and her joie de vivre!)

They already feel like established Valley residents, partly because of their great delight in being here and partly because they knew many of the Valley skiers who go to Squaw and Alpine in the winter.

They plan a casual atmosphere to complement the architecture and setting of Los Laureles Lodge. Both lunch and dinner will be served every day except Wednesday. Food will be simple, home-cooked and delicious, served ranch style, according to John.

A room at the front overlooking the pool will be converted into a cocktail lounge with a piano bar and dancing. Eventually, the Bulmers expect to have a game room for cards, darts, dominoes and pool, making the operation a casual spot to drop in to relax.

Soon, they plan to start a "rogues' gallery" like they had at Squaw Valley, filling a complete wall with photographs of guests.

Next spring they expect to re-establish the putting green which was a part of the lodge for many years and also install several tennis courts. Their plan is to gear the activities of the lodge more to adults and young adults rather than catering to small children.

John Dort, who has been at Los Laureles during the summer will continue as cook and the bar manager is Jack Lawlor.

CV Chamber to meet on Thursdays

The Village Committee will continue its work, but within the Chamber, and will continue to be headed by Bob Kvenild, it was determined at a meeting of the Carmel Valley Chamber of Commerce at the Rancho del Monte Country Club last week.

The Chamber decided to contact the Youth Group to set up Santa's House again; decided to meet on the second Thursday of each month instead of Wednesday; discussed an appropriate cover for the new Valley brochure; noted the deplorable problem of trash and garbage being dumped in the Village and decided to contact Boy Scouts for a clean-up job; decided to join with the Valley Property Owners Association in contacting the Coro Foundation for a new study for re-evaluation of the possibility of incorporating the Village.

All this was accomplished under the direction of Chamber

President Ken Van Hagen and to the tune of the World Series announcer on TV.

Ballots will be counted at the next Chamber meeting. The new board members will be elected from the following list:

Lou Allaire, Joan Bennett, Herb Brownell, Dean Campbell, Larry Cummings, Virginia de Maria, Lou Gardner, Tom Hefling, Ed Marcucci, Bill Norton, Skip Marquard, Scott Rambach, Nick Skalyo, Ralph Updike and Ramona Wier.

THE SURE SIGN that fall is upon us is here again. During just the last few days, the beautiful poplar trees bordering the John Sigourney fence on the Valley Rd. have changed from their bright, fresh green to an equally bright, fresh golden yellow! (Painting by Margaret Ziegler)

Dr. Taylor requests annexation of Carmel High

Dr. Harris Taylor's closing statement at last week's school board meeting revived the question of annexation of Carmel High School to the City of Carmel.

The superintendent said, "There has been talk in the past of annexing the high school to the city and I am interested in seeing this done. There are a number of advantages. I would like to get the school under the jurisdiction of the Carmel Police Dept., and under the protection of the Carmel Fire Dept."

The trustees also agreed, with a favorable attitude toward annexation. Hilton Bialek commented that he thought the property and city limits had to be contiguous which would probably involve annexing at least a one-inch strip three blocks long and a piece of Highway 1. Further board discussion was delayed until a future meeting, but Taylor was authorized to conduct informal talks with city officials.

Since there is no one in residence at the high school there is no need for an election in order to annex the property.

Leslie is Laguna Seca winner

ED LESLIE came through with flying colors and two flying cars on Saturday at the Laguna Seca races. His wife, Betty, planted a resounding "bus" after he had driven an Austin Healy 3000 to first place in the D and E Production race and followed this victory with a second place in the Ken Miles Memorial Race. Leslie drove his Lotus 23 G just about 35 seconds behind winner Scooter Patrick to pick up $950 in prize money. (Outlook Staff photo) tendance from without the district were taken up. The first request by Dr. Elliott Leighton, director of the Esalen Institute, for permission to allow his two wards to attend Carmel High School was denied. Esalen is four miles south of the CUSD border. Leighton broached it as a "hardship case," since he had to drive the two wards 12 miles south to the nearest bus stop for Cambria High School, and from there they had a two-hour ride. The nearest CUSD bus stop is about five miles north of Esalen.

The request of parents of John Dorsey, a former CHS student to transfer back from Pacific Grove High School was approved after a short executive session.

SPECIAL CLASSES

A progress report on the program for the educationally handicapped was made by Thomas Sanford, CUSD psychologist, who was on the staff of the original state-aided program in Los Angeles six years ago.

The class being held at River School now has six children, ages 7-10, from River, Woods and Carmelo schools enrolled. These are not mentally retarded or physically retarded youngsters, but rather those with behavioral problems stemming from neurological or emotional difficulties. These are children who have a discrepancy between ability and achievement according to Sanford. The program involves neurological retraining with physical as well as educational training. There is a state reimbursement of up to 2% of the schools' enrollment and the district is receiving $910 per child.

OTHER BUSINESS

The final matter on the agenda related to the granting of high school diplomas under unusual circumstance.

Three separate categories of instances were mentioned by Taylor who would like the board to draft a policy.

1) Students who drop out to

SPORTS

Middle School football

On Saturday, Oct. 14, the seventh graders from Carmel Middle School met Walter Colton in flag football. Playing at Fremont Jr. High, the B team won 7-0, but the A team lost 22-2.

John O'Shea made the touchdown for B team by interception of a pass. Mike McQuire made the conversion. Mike Feeney scored the safety which gave the A team its two points.

Carmel's players were hampered by penalties, which the team has been working to overcome.

The Carmel Middle School eighth graders played Fremont Jr. High. The A team lost a heartbreaker 26-14 when Fremont scored two touchdowns in the last quarter. Terry Seeders and Todd Gebhart scored Carmel's two touchdowns, with Albert Hood making the conversions.

Punt, kick and pass

Carmel Middle School has two winners in the Punt, Pass and Kick competition held recently.

Dave Hunter was the 11-year-old winner with a total of 210 points. Albert Hood, the 13-year-old winner, totaled up 349 points.

Bob Egli from Tulare City School won his 9-year-old age level with 182 points.

A Tulare City third grader, Larry Ocampo, also won his grade level.

join the armed forces and at a later date take courses and pass the qualifying tests.

2) Youngsters who drop out and subsequently fulfill requirements in junior college and adult education courses.

PEGGY MERVINE, seated on "Merry Harvest Chief," won third place in the Fifth Annual Walking Horse Show held at the California State Fairgrounds in Sacramento Oct. 8. The show which draws from all over the state, was sponsored by the Northern California Tennessee Walking Horse Assoc. Her award was made in Open Stake, the largest class. The two who topped Peggy were both trainers, so she feels very proud of her third place. (Photo by Fallow)

Aikido demonstration on Sunday

The initial meeting of Cub Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, and parents interested in taking lessons in "aikido" was held Wednesday evening at the Community Center. Their instructor, Mr. Tri of Vietnam, is a former teacher at the Language School in Monterey.

On Sunday afternoon, Oct. 22 at 2 p.m. at the Community Center, Mr. Tri (pronounced Tree) has invited a friend from Japan to give a demonstration. He is one of the highest ranking men in this art in the world and one of four who hold the ninth rank of Black Belt in the world. The public is cordially invited to attend. There is no admission charge.

Incorporation thoughts

It was inevitable that Carmel Valley should start talking about incorporation again. With population and automobile increases, encroaching developments and commercial growth, it is more and more often a matter of frustration to leave Carmel Valley's decisions on planning, zoning, roads, etc. to county officials, who may or may not reflect the desires and needs of local residents.

There comes a point where a possible tax increase is offset by the gains in police and fire protection, monies returned to the community (room tax, cigarette tax and gasoline tax) and having control over your own destiny.

Whether or not Carmel Valley has reached that point can best be discovered by an updated incorporation study. A lot has happened since the original Coro Foundation report was made three years ago. It would be up to the residents of the Valley to decide whether the "price" of responsibility is worth it or not.

The original Coro study concluded that incorporation was feasible both legally and financially. The reason why the study was undertaken was to obtain adequate information and facts on which to base an opinion.

In an unincorporated area, additional services can only be provided by districts (such as a fire protection district, a recreation district, a police protection district, a water resource district, a sanitation district). Each of these adds tax dollars on each resident. The original Coro report theorized that it might cost less in time, money and administration to coordinate these under a single government.

Incorporation does NOT have to mean sidewalks, curbs, and street lights. Look at Carmel! It has used its incorporation to retain the atmosphere in the face of progress rather than destroy it.

Let's take a long, sensible look at the report when it is done. It is highly possible that we might have a better chance of keeping our rural residential character if we had hold of the reins instead of letting the county drive the horse... right out of Carmel Valley.

-GD

What is Coro

The Coro Foundation has been responsible for incorporation studies in Woodside, Saratoga, Santa Rosa, Tiburon and many other California communities. Some of these incorporated on the basis of the studies... some did not.

Coro is a non-profit organization which was founded in 1942 for education and research in public affairs. Its basic function is to educate outstanding young people for public service... and part of their training is actual experience in public service.

Coro has an office in San Francisco and in Los Angeles. Its "interns" are chosen for the most part from graduating college seniors on the basis of grades, references, and interest with a final screening through a written paper on some social or public problem.

The interns are not paid, but the community or agency which requested the report bears the expenses of room, board, stenographic help, publication of the report, etc.

PERSPECTIVE

IN SHORT

OVERHEARD at a recent board meeting... "Wow! What coffee! They must have kept this from yesterday!" Reply from fellow board member... "Would you believe last month's meeting."

CHRISTMAS IS COMING. In spite of the heat, three definite indications were in the wind this week: The Carmel Business Assoc. announced a Christmas Expressions Contest, offering prizes to shops presenting the best Christmas window displays; the Carmel Valley Chamber of Commerce decided to ask the Youth Group to help put up "Santa's House" in which Old Nick can hold confidential interviews with small fry again this year; and UNICEF Christmas cards are due to arrive for sale at the Blue Sky Lodge, prettier than ever this year, according to the catalog.

MAIL POSTMARKED "Rome, Italy" is being received by friends of Arch Garner, who has gone to Europe to join forces with another former Valley resident, Hank Ketchum. As a member of the Hank Ketchum Corp., Garner will design playgrounds for European small fry similar to the famous sculptor's fanciful designs for Monterey's Dennis the Menace Park.

AN AMUSING story came out of the first meeting of some very young and very small Cub Scouts who were introduced to an instructor of judo for what at that time was planned to be lessons for the pack in judo. Mr. Tri took his imposing position on the mat at the Community Center and gave out the customary bellow (which releases all air from the lungs and in so doing puts the fear of the Banshees into the opponent) only to find he had instantaneously lost his entire audience. As one, the entire pack flew out the door of the Community Center (with at least one Den Mother close on their heels!). It was at this point it was decided to teach the children aikido... with NO yelling!

The Rhyming Philosopher

How come, with all the wisdom of the ages
Culled from many peoples and their cultures,
Written in a hundred thousand pages--
Have we become but passive meat for vultures?

Is this the cause for which our sons have perished?
The fruit of Valley Forge and Bunker Hill?
Is this the test of freedom we have cherished
To trade away our rights for less than nil?

The lure of Federal Funds have dug the pit
We all fell in. No longer have we choice
Of whom to hire or when without begrudged perm.
From bureaucrats' ill-biased facesless voice.
Arouse yourselves before too late to scorn
The hated yoke, and speed home rule reborn.

Your fathers broke the ground; now you must till it,
Your heritage is freedom unoppressed.
Your voice shall overcome if you but will it
To put The Constitution to the test.
Unite! Your concentrated strength is proof!
This is the hour! Now is the Moment of Truth!

St. Dunstan's has brunch meeting

THE CONGREGATION of St. Dunstan's Episcopal Church met for brunch on Sunday, Oct. 15, to discuss the stewardship program and long-range plans for the church. In the foreground, Mrs. Paul Naton serves Capt. and Mrs. Philip Mothersill. Mrs. Mothersill was honored at the brunch for her five years of service as church treasurer. In the background, Mrs. Philip Walker, also on the serving committee, welcomes newcomers. Mrs. Don Quinto, president of the Churchwomen, was in charge of the brunch. An expansion of facilities is planned to give more kitchen room and enlarge the classroom space where the brunch was held. (George T.C. Smith photo)

No Halloween Carnival at Tularcitos this year

Dr. David Morris, president of the Tularcitos Parents Club, members of the board, and Principal George Gustafson met Wednesday at school to discuss the annual Halloween Carnival.

After statements made by a delegation of mothers who have helped to build and improve the successful project over the past four years, the board decided that with 2 1/2 weeks remaining it would be impossible to put on an event equal to the calibre Tularcitos parents and students have come to expect.

The carnival was postponed until a date to be set during the second semester by co-chairmen, Mrs. Andrew Nottenkamper and Mrs. Mark Hattan.

'Black Orpheus' show time is now Oct. 27

The French film, "Black Orpheus," will be shown Friday, Oct. 27, in the Monterey Peninsula College music hall at 7:30. Winner of the Grand Prix at the 1959 Cannes Film Festival, this film was originally scheduled for Sept. 15, but failed to arrive in time. Another film was shown in its place, but season ticket holders are still entitled to see "Black Orpheus" without charge.

Individual tickets are available at 75¢ or 50¢ for active servicemen and MPC students holding "academic" student body cards. Seats for series ticket holders will be held until five minutes before show time.

St. Dunstan's to have new kitchen

Construction of the new kitchen will begin this month thus increasing the size of the Church School building and allowing more room for Sunday School classes. The plans for the kitchen were drawn by Mel Blevens, a member of the congregation and the contractor for the construction will be Edward Spears also of Carmel Valley.

Bavaria is next Explorarama film

"Bavaria, the Best of Southern Germany," the next Explorarama-Carmel film, was recently premiered for the National Geographic Society in Washington, D.C. It includes views of Munich, the storybook castles of King Ludwig, Nuremberg, Dinkelsbühl and Rothenburg, the Alps, medieval villages, Oberammergau, beautiful Alpine lakes and the excitement of a spring festival.

The film, narrated in person by its photographer, Clay Francisco, is two hours in length and is accompanied by stereophonic musical background and sound effects, recorded on the spot.

"Bavaria" will be shown at Sunset Center on Friday, Oct. 20, at 8:15 p.m.

"MY GARDEN" by Ellwood Graham

S.C. Yuan was awarded a $300 prize and a one-man exhibition next July at the Monterey County Painting - 1967 competition for his painting entitled "Trio."

Helen Dooley was also awarded $300 for her work titled "Festival," and Gerald Wasserman received $300 for his "Ladies in the Night."

Hayward King, curator of the Richmond Art Center, acted as judge of the show which will run at the Lincoln St. Gallery through Nov. 3.

Others chosen to exhibit in this fourth annual competition were Joe Ataide, Howard Bradford, Jane Buffington, Sam Colburn, Diane Crane, Alex Gonzales, Ellwood Graham, Forrest Moses, Andrea Spark, Bev Rowe, Lake Wilcox, Vern Yadan and Margaret Ziegler.

At last Thursday's "Meet the Artist" Preview, Margaret Ziegler's watercolor, "Mist in the Mountain," was sold.

Mexican artist to lecture at MPC

Artist David V. Villasenor will spend Wednesday, Oct. 25, as lecturer-in-residence at Monterey Peninsula College, speaking to class at 10 and 11 a.m. and delivering a free public lecture that evening at 8 p.m. in the library lecture hall.

Born in Mexico of part Indian ancestry, he became an artist who strives to bring a greater understanding of the American Indian before the public. One of his outstanding contributions has been to devise a method of making Indian sand paintings permanent. He is also known as the sculptor of the 600-pound Aztec Calendar Stone in the Los Angeles County Museum of Natural History, which is an exact reproduction of the 24-ton basaltic original in Mexico City.

"Bon Voyage" to Joni Clayton

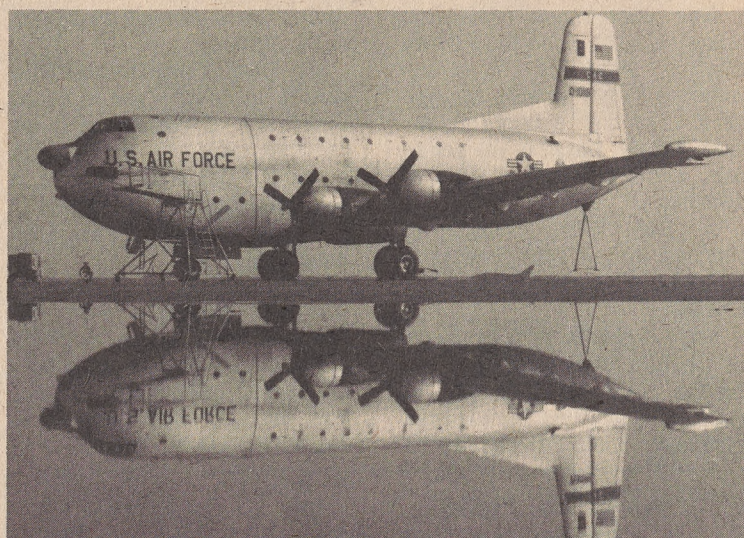

Members of the Peninsula Potters, Monterey, held a pot luck "Bon Voyage" dinner for Mrs. Joni Clayton of the Carmel Valley Manor who is leaving on a five-month tour of Africa. Besides the regular members of the pottery craft shop, Mr. and Mrs. Lawson were present. Mr. Lawson is the new pottery instructor for the Carmel Adult Education pottery class. They were made honorary members of the craft shop.

Dispatch from our far-flung correspondent

"The inside story of the inside of a boiler factory" could be the title of this week's trip via Douglas Globemaster to Korea and back. But the people, the 11 flight-crew members of the 349th Military Airlift Wing (RES), should get co-billing or co-headlining with "Old Shaky," as this monster of a 16-year-old airplane is, with a laugh, nick-named.

They are Air Force Reservists, professional airmen who baby their big old sky-freighter regularly about the world with urgently-needed pieces of equipment.

Loadmaster and Staff Sgt. Gene Simmons of Sausalito, vice president of an aluminum fabricating company in civilian life, and his bouncy assistant, S/Sgt. Dick Melencio, in a family import business outside, saw to the chaining down of the heavy load along the middle of the cavernous cabin. To relieve the grinding, vibrating, roaring boredom, the two at the moment are with a pen providing entertainment by adding humorous notations to the innumerable stamped instructions on a big wooden packing case crowding the middle of the cabin. Seriously, the stamped instructions warn: "DELICATE INSTRUMENTS. Handle with Care..."

Cargo Non-dangerous... Signature Required... Microfilm Equipment." Melencio, just for the fun of it, scrawls: "Up... Down... Nails, Knots," with arrows pointing to the nails and the wooden knots in the boards of the packing case.

Also in the row of cargo down the freight-car like cabin are a steel crated, fabric airplane rudder (the fellows sitting in canvas seats along the walls have to remember to keep their feet off the airplane rudder, although it's OK to sit further along and hoist your feet against the two steel tanks in which a couple of airplane motors are well protected). There's also some sort of gasoline stationary engine in a flimsy crate. Most of the freight is headed for Taiwan and will be transhipped there from Tachikawa Air Base near Tokyo.

Major Edward Black, Sacramento-area rancher and chief pilot, is captain of this aircraft, and is addressed as "captain." He's also called "Red," which is lettered along the back of his black flight cap emphasizing his rusty red hair, or just "Ed," underscoring the non-saluting informality of the Air Force outfit. WN

Mardi Roberts betrothal told

The engagement of Martha Anne (Mardi) Roberts to David Shelton Read has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald G. Roberts of Carmel Valley. David is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Read of Seattle.

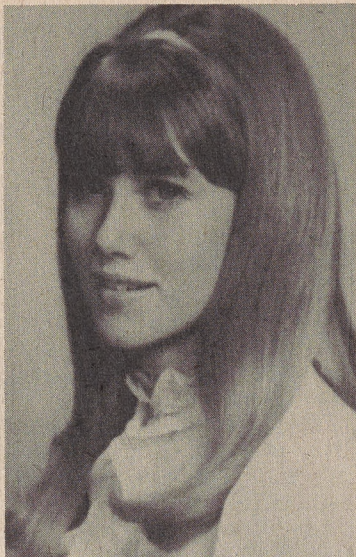

A Dec. 27th wedding is planned by the young couple at the Church of the Wayfarer in Carmel.

Miss Roberts is a graduate of Carmel High School and attended both the University of California at Santa Barbara and Brigham Young University in Utah. She is presently a senior at UC-Davis.

Mr. Read graduated from high school in Seattle and attended University of Washington where he was affiliated with Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. He is now attending U.S. Army Security Agency School at Fort Monmouth, N.J.

Miss Roberts has a brother, Warren, formerly with the Peace Corps, now a graduate student at University of California-Davis. Her sister, Linda, was married this summer to James B. Pruitt, Jr., and they are now residing in Austin, Tex.

Mr. Read is the brother of Mrs. Gerald Van Gorn of Tacoma, Wash.

Tularcitos Parents' Club to meet Oct. 24

The second Parents Club meeting of the year will be held at Tularcitos School on Tuesday evening, Oct. 24. All parents are invited to the 8 p.m. meeting in the multipurpose room. Membership in the Tularcitos Parents Club is $1 per family.

Susan Springer weds B. Hammond

Susan Elizabeth Springer of Carmel Valley became the bride of Bruce Marshall Hammond of Pacific Grove on Sept. 23. Rev. Glen Fisk performed the ceremony at the Mayflower Church of Pacific Grove.

Susan, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Springer, wore a street-length dress of Chantilly lace for the 5:30 p.m. ceremony.

Bruce is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Hammond of Pacific Grove.

Juanita Partridge was the lone attendant for the bride and James Brickman of Pacific Grove was best man.

The small family wedding was followed by a large reception at the home of the bride's parents.

Mrs. Hammond attended MPC and Hartnell College and is presently employed as a nurse in the Carmel Valley Manor Medical Center. Mr. Hammond is employed at Stahl Motors in Monterey. He has already completed a four-year hitch in the US Air Force.

St. Dunstan's auxiliary plans benefit bridge

Mrs. Karl Kunz has offered her home, 33 Berwick Dr., for the Oct. 25 benefit bridge and canasta party sponsored by the St. Dunstan's Episcopal Ladies Auxiliary. The party, which begins at 12 noon will be co-hosted by Mrs. George Clifford and Mrs. Philip Walker.

Salary Shuffle

... By reducing the city clerk's salary and increasing the city administrator's stipend, the city council aims to remunerate more equitably anyone who should, following the April municipal election, serve Carmel in either capacity, or both. A report to this effect was adopted by the council last week. It will be acted upon next month.

Prepared by Mayor Steve Grant and Councilman

Eben Whittlesey, the report points out that the required work performed as city clerk amounts to approximately one-tenth of the work done by Hugh Bayless who also acts as city administrator. His duties in the latter capacity take the rest of his time.

He receives $600 a month as city clerk and $440 a month as city administrator. The report proposes to reduce the city clerk's pay to $100 a month and add the $500 difference to the city administrator's salary.

However, no city clerk's stipend can be changed during his four-year term of office, except in wartime. Consequently, Bayless will receive his present remuneration until April when his elective term expires.

The job of city administrator is appointive and could be filled by the council should a city clerk be elected who could not qualify for the city administrator job. The proposed salary shuffle will provide equitable for a city clerk or city administrator should these positions be filled by one person, or two.

NEW LAW HITS SNAG ... Passage of the new law legalizing consumption of alcoholic beverages on the beach, but in no other public place, was delayed last week by an amendment. As a result, it will not receive second reading and adoption until November.

Defined in the law as public places were service stations. Councilman Herbert Blanks indicated that this provision pre-empted the rights of gas station owners or operators "to drink a bottle of beer in the back office," also to have Christmas or New Year's drink inside the premises with employees or friends. "I'm not condoning or condemning this practice," he emphasized in seeking the elimination of any discrimination against gas station owners or operators.

OUTLOOK ON CARMEL

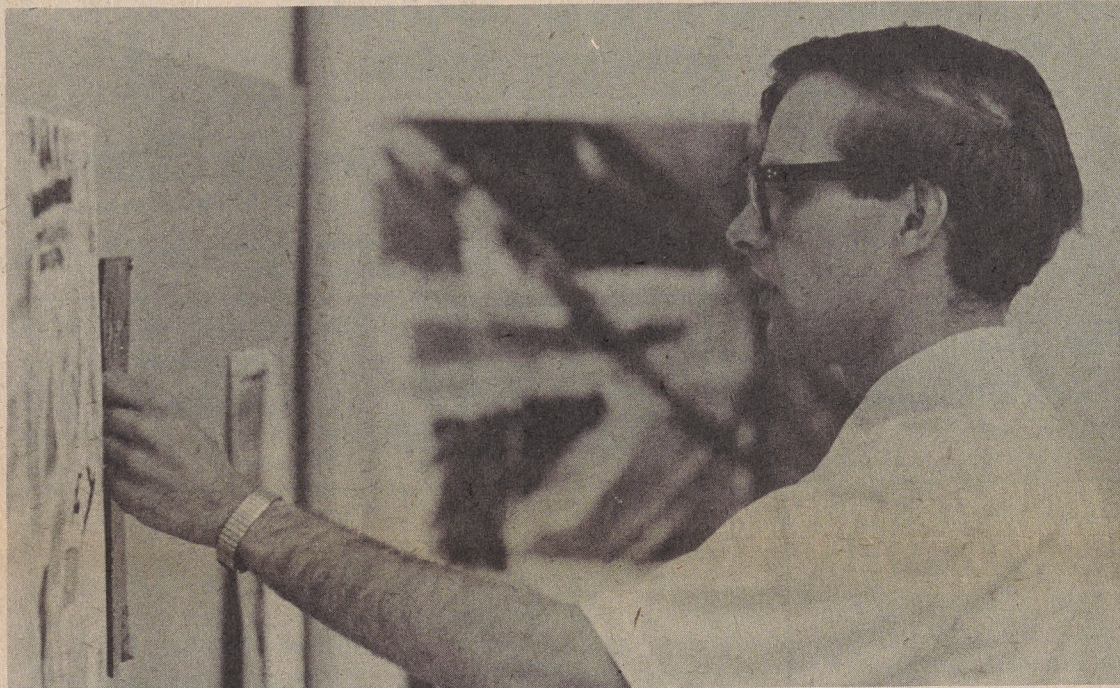

Museum's curator is also a sculptor and painter

At the present moment, Steve Brown, curator of the Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art Assn., is busy at work on another project. He says he is usually doing ten things at once, so it makes eleven. This week's "extra activity" is an art auction, dance and "parking lot party" to benefit seven sculptors and Gordon Newell's Sculpture Center which was destroyed in last week's fire on Cannery Row. Uninsured pieces of sculpture valued at about $35,000 were destroyed in that fire. So Steve, a sculptor himself, is the brains behind the Oct. 29 benefit, being held across from the Warehouse.

Steve came here from Denver with his wife Marilyn, and daughter, Lisa, two years ago. He says he sort of "backed into" his job as curator of the Museum's gallery on Lincoln St. in Carmel.

"You start loving art and look what happens. My wife and I ran the Pacific Grove Art Gallery and I was working as a jewelry engraver. I decided to quit being a jewelry engraver ... the job for curator was open so I applied and got it ... and I'm glad!"

His work consists of planning and arranging the gallery shows. Last year he was particularly enthused over an exhibition entitled, "Please Touch." This was a show emphasizing tactile impressions, and prior to the opening, he took the pieces to a school where blind or partially blind children were taught. He found their perception was far above persons "with eyes" and their imagination unlimited.

In his spare time from his gallery duties, Steve is a sculptor, painter and poet, and maintaining the art gallery atmosphere at home, Marilyn is a water colorist in addition to being a mother.

Steve is one of the few people in Carmel who says he doesn't have a reason for being here. Most persons wax long and poetic on Carmel's beauty, charm, atmosphere, etc. "I didn't have any real reason to come here, but I really like it!" Steve says.

There is a one-man show of Steve's sculpture and paintings on display this month at the Monterey Public Library.

He says about the show, "It's weird...three months of fog really did something to me. The pieces of sculpture are about two inches tall and the paintings are miniscule bits and dots."

It will be interesting to see what the result will be of the present months of sunshine.

To be honored at tea

Mrs. Lee Spence designs cards for symphony

A tea honoring Mary Jane (Mrs. Lee) Spence will be given by Mrs. Richard Murtland and Mrs. Stuart Symington Goode on Friday, Oct. 20, from 3 to 5 p.m.

Mrs. Spence has been chosen by the Symphony Assoc. to design its first series of holiday greeting cards.

The Spences recently moved to the Peninsula from their former home in San Jose and are living in Del Monte Forest. Mrs. Spence is the daughter of Mrs. I. Norman Downer of Carmel.

Mrs. Spence has studied and travelled in both the United States and Europe and has exhibited throughout the West.

While in San Jose she was a supporter of that city's musical endeavors and is an active member of both their Symphony Assoc. and auxiliary.

Assisting Mmes. Murtland and Goode will be Mmes. Van Court Warren, Benjamin Franklin Sowell, Gabriel Burnette, Morris Sheldon, Webster Downer, Douglas Graham, Clyn Smith, David Hill, Henry Huntington III, Frank Bray and Elizabeth Mudd.

Dinner dance to precede Golden Domino Tournament

A new name has been added to the upcoming Fourth Annual Monterey Peninsula Domino Tournament to be held on Saturday, Nov. 11.

Mrs. Pillsbury Pringle, chairman of the affair has decided to call it the "Golden Domino Tournament." The first prize will be gold domino jewelry but eventually the committee hopes to award a gold plated domino set to the winner.

The Monterey County Symphony will benefit from the tournament and luncheon which will be held as usual at Del Monte Lodge and continue throughout the entire day.

Preceding the tournament on Friday evening, there will be a dinner-dance at the Beach Club.

Mrs. Roderick Dewar is assistant chairman, Mrs. Ray Ransey is in charge of the dance, Mrs. Hans Von Richter is hostess chairman and Mrs. Tom Hudson is in charge of prizes.

John Roland, a National Domino League member, will be in charge of scoring the play.

Anyone interested in playing may call Mrs. Pringle at 375-0090.

Carmel Women's Club to hear advice on gardening

The first fall meeting of the House and Garden section of the Carmel Woman's Club will be held on Monday, Oct. 23, at the Clubhouse, at 2 p.m.

"Planning Now for Color in Spring Gardening," is the timely topic on which Mrs. Norman Walker will speak. She is a past president of the Monterey Peninsula Garden Club and at present is a director of activities of the Carmel Foundation. An enthusiastic gardener

FIRST MAYOR HONORED ... Fraser Way is the new name of Carmel's one-block-long 14th Ave. The name honors Carmel's first mayor, A.P. Fraser, who was elected when the city was incorporated in 1916. UNDER THE OAKS & AMONG THE CACTI

By Mildred Hattan

Mr. and Mrs. E.A. Kameron of 80 Poppy Rd. are home from two wonderful weeks in Hawaii. They were accompanied by Peggy Adamson of Rosalyn Heights, Long Island, who had been their Valley house guest, and Carl Vetter of Carmel. Their stay was made even more enjoyable since they were guests at the home of Mr. Vetter's daughter, which is located between Cocoa Head and Diamond Head on the leeward side of the island. Their hostess furnished them with guest cards at the Outrigger Canoe Club, they enjoyed a 14-course feast at the Hawaiian Village, and a catamaran tour of Pearl Harbor.

All four of the vacationers are enthusiastic dog fanciers and had preceded their island trip by attending the dog convention Training School in San Francisco in Oakland. The foursome met Arthur Zane, an island resident, and well-known dog judge who took them through the quarantine site where dogs coming into the islands must be held for observation.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hebert of Paso Cresta have enjoyed a visit from their son Spec/5 Robert J. Hebert who was on leave from duty in Vietnam. Having served a year and a half with the Army, young Hebert is continuing his service at an Engineering School in Fort Belvedere, Va.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS

Mothers invited to a tea by their daughters who are members of the Camp Fire Girls Group led by Mrs. Glen Low had an opportunity to watch the presentation of honor beads earned by them last year. Assisting Mrs. Low with the tea was Mrs. Bresk who, with the aid of her daughters, Anita, Lydia and Helena, had baked all of the cookies for the attractive tea table.

Awards were presented to Michelle Bottaro, Anita Bresk, Terry Harber, Mylinda Low, Peggy Palmer, Kathy Platter, Mary Ray, Sherry Rhoades, Cindy Shepard, Heidi Viljoen, Linda Wilson, Blanca Zarazua, Marian Doud, and Becky Sweet.

A former Valleyite, Lt. James R. Walker flew to the Peninsula last week to attend the meeting of the Cabrillo Doberman Pinscher Club. A helicopter pilot, Jim is attending San Diego prior to his departure for Vietnam. Fran, children, and their handsome Dobermans moved from their W. Carmel Valley Rd. home in July to Flora, Ind., where they will remain while Jim is overseas. While here, Jim was the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. E.A. Kameron.

Guests for ten days at the El Caminito Rd. home of Mr. and Mrs. David Hoisington have been his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harland W. Hoisington of Princeton, N.J.

While Mr. Hoisington Sr. went fishing up north, Mrs. Helen Hoisington began her Valley stay and included among other events the Women's Club luncheon at Rancho del Monte. They have enjoyed the Valley and dividing their time among the grandchildren, Helen and Chuck, who live nearby on El Caminito.

It was moving day for the Joseph Ricupero family recently when they moved from the residence that has been their home for several years on W. Carmel Valley Rd. near Giuseppe's Workbench to temporary quarters at the Valley Lodge until their new home under construction on Laurel Dr. is completed. Mr. and Mrs. Ricupero have rented their home to Mrs. Renee Holloway and Mrs. Quackenbush.

BRIDGE CLUB

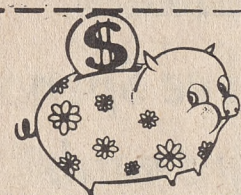

The monthly masterpoint tournament took place Tuesday evening when members of the Valley Bridge Club gathered at the Community Center. Mrs. Arnold Bradley and Mrs. George Corrigan were first place winners of the evening of play. Mrs. Gertrude Bisnett and Mrs. Evelyn Lichty were second place winners, while Mrs. George de Lorimier and Mrs. William Sebenius were in third place.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Feldman and son, Michael, of Aliso Rd. included a day of exploring the Danish town of Solvang during a recent vacation trip to Santa Barbara.

A warm Valley welcome to former residents of St. Louis, Mo., Mr. and Mrs. Richard Darragh and their children, Richard Jr., Kenny, Kathy, and Patty who are attending Carmel Mission School. Mr. Darragh is an associate of Hidden Hills Properties Co. where their home is presently under construction.

White Oaks sponsors fashion

Pirkle Jones photos to be next at Carmel Photography Center

Another exhibit of outstanding photographic works will open with a reception Saturday, Oct. 21, in the Carmel Photography Center, sponsored by Friends of Photography, Inc. The gallery is located in Sunset Center and the reception will begin at 8:30 p.m.

The work of two contemporary San Francisco photographers, Pirkle Jones and his wife, Ruth-Marion Baruch, will be on display through Nov. 19. Jones has exhibited widely and is also known for an outstanding photo-essay on the California Wine Country. His wife has recently done a new documentary series of still photographs of the Haight-Ashbury life.

The exhibit is open to the public from 1 to 5 daily except Mondays.

Conductor de Jong to make debut at first symphony concert of the season Monday

Two Carmel Valley musicians will be among the featured players of the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra when it opens its 22nd season on Oct. 23 in the Salinas High School Auditorium and on Oct. 24 in Carmel's Sunset Auditorium.

Leo Stuckens, who plays the viola, will be marking his fourth year with the group. Violinist Christine Beckstrom has just joined the orchestra this season.

Monday evening will also be the local debut of new conductor Jan deJong and concertmaster Michael Rosenker. DeJong joined the staff this summer after serving as musical director of the San Leandro Symphony Orchestra. Rosenker, who was with the New York Philharmonic Orchestra for 20 years, was most recently concertmaster for the Yomiuri Nippon Symphony Orchestra.

An all-orchestral program will be presented featuring Richard Wagner's prelude to the opera, "Der Meistersinger," Symphony No. 6 or the Pastoral Symphony by Beethoven, Tchaikovsky's overture-fantasy "Romeo and Juliet," and "Variaciones Concertantes" certs can be obtained by calling the Monterey County Symphony Association office at 624-4125.

JAN DE JONG

Fine Arts, Crafts Festival to be held on weekend

The Fine Arts and Crafts Festival at the Monterey Fairgrounds will be open to the public for three complete days this year, Oct. 20, 21 and 22. Opening at 11 a.m. each day, the Festival will remain open until 7 p.m. each evening, Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Additional entertainment will be presented after the actual art-in-action demonstrations have ceased.

Friday night, the San Diego Ballet will perform at 8 p.m.; on Saturday the Keio Mandolin Orchestra from Tokyo will present their program at 8 p.m. and at 7 p.m. on Sunday a "benefit drawing" will be held as the last highlight of the three-day event.

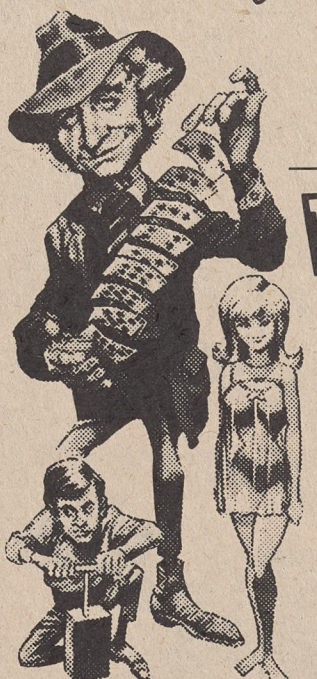

In addition there will be other varied forms of entertainment during the day.

Well over 100 artists will demonstrate and exhibit arts and crafts in action, including ceramics, glass blowing, sculpting and painting.

General admission to the Festival is $1 with children under 12 admitted free when accompanied by an adult. Reserved seat tickets are available for the ballet and orchestra performances.

ABOVE LEFT — Mrs. Rudi Marzi (right), a seven-pint donor, checks in with Mrs. Thomas McKiernon. Mrs. McKiernon is in charge of recruiting all Carmel Valley donors and it is her great aspiration to reach the 100 donor mark for which she has been striving since the Valley's first blood bank in 1959. At the May drawing, 97 potential donors were present but only 88 were accepted. The Red Cross carefully screens all potential donors.

BELOW LEFT — Mrs. Valma Peterson (RN) has completed the hemoglobin examination and is taking Gerry Cullen's medical history. Every precaution is taken to protect the prospective donor as well as making certain that the blood meets Red Cross standards. Mrs. Edward Luker, director of the Family Service Agency is in the background.

Taken last spring at the CV Fire House

The fall visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile to Carmel Valley is scheduled for Thursday, Oct. 26. Hours for the drawing are from 3 to 6:30 at the CV Fire House on Via Contenta.

Specific appointments may be made by calling Mrs. Thomas McKiernon (659-2833) who is hopeful of reaching her goal of 100 successful donors from Carmel Valley.

Baby sitting is provided for those who wish to give blood but have youngsters at home at that time.

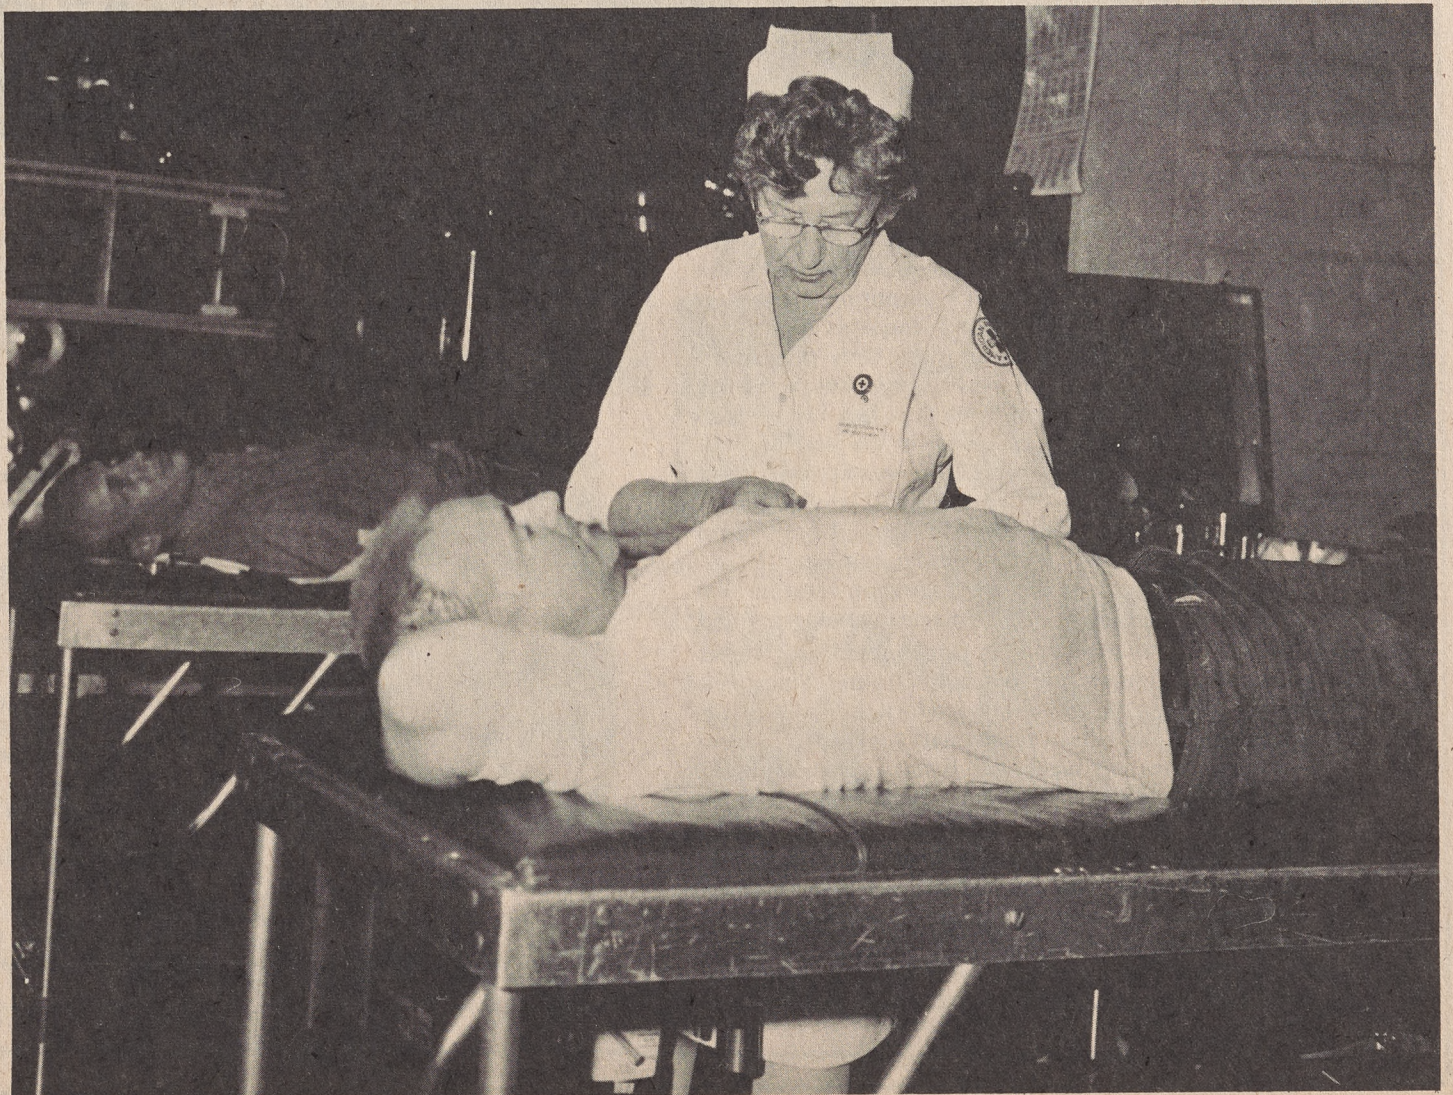

Donors will receive a blood credit card for themselves and members of their families which entitles them to draw on the Red Cross supplies for blood needs during the following one-year period.

ABOVE — Lou Allaire, a five-gallon-plus donor, talks with little Molly Gregory while he awaits his preliminary examination. Molly was waiting for her mother, Mrs. George Gregory who was on duty as a nurse's aid.

AT LEFT — Dr. James Short was one of the physicians on duty at the last blood drawing. He chats with Mrs. George Gregory. According to Red Cross regulations, a physician must be on duty for the entire time of the blood drawing.

BELOW — Ray Danielson (on the table in foreground) is in the process of giving blood. Mrs. Valma Peterson is in attendance. Although Mr. Danielson lives in Salinas, he continues to give blood in the Valley. Gregg Scherman is in the background, resting after having given blood.

Red Cross Blood Bank workers are all set for a big turnout

"One phase of the Red Cross Blood Program that many people do not thoroughly understand," Marjorie McKiernon said recently, "is the advantage of forming credit groups."

She went on to explain that any organization, be it political, social, service, business or whatever nature, may sign an agreement with the local Red Cross Chapter to pool their individual blood donations. When 20% or more of the membership contributes within any one year, every member will automatically be covered and receive blood credit cards. This offers protection particularly for those, who for one reason or another, are unable to contribute themselves and receive their own credit cards.

There are always some willing donors who are turned away at Bloodmobile, or deferred until a future visit. Reasons may vary all the way from recent tattoos to low blood pressure.

The first consideration is the well-being of the donor, but the health of the recipient is of equal importance. This is why there is always a physician on duty during the hours of the Bloodmobile. Registered nurses take the donor's medical history but in the case of doubt, the doctor's decision prevails, according to Mrs. McKiernon.

"Therefore, the credit groups perform a valuable function," she concluded. "Those who are willing and able to donate blood can furnish complete protection for those of the membership who cannot contribute."

"In this way, a few can protect many. But we are hoping to see more than a few at the Bloodmobile next Thursday, the twenty-sixth."

Blood donors are reminded to please bring their social security numbers and also their credit cards with them

Chest Drive

David Laing, manager of First Federal Savings & Loan Assoc., has been named chairman of the Community Chest business drive in the Lower Valley

The consolidated business drive, over the entire Peninsula and Carmel Valley, began on Thursday, under the leadership of Steve Sassoon of Carmel.

Dr. E.P. Marcucci, D.D.S., is chairman of the business drive in the Upper Valley which includes the entire area east of the Farm Center. Mrs. Jean McDonald is Residential Chairman in Lower Valley from Highway 1 to Los Laureles Grade and Mrs. Milton A. (Mary) Marquard, Jr. is Residential Chairman for the Upper Valley and Robles del Rio.

The Residential Drive is scheduled to start Nov. 6.

The campaign goal of $224,366 is the minimum amount on which the fourteen health, welfare and youth agencies can exist during 1968, according to the budget committee. This amount will be shared by the Visiting Nurse Assoc., Gateway Center (for retarded children), Alcoholism Council, Handicapped Activities, Salvation Army, Hot Lunches (for underprivileged children), Family Service Agency, U.S.O. (national & local), Travelers Aid Assoc., Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts

Sen. Grunsky told the chairmen and administrators of the Monterey Peninsula Community Chest that it is of the utmost importance to "perpetuate volunteer organizations since they perform work that cannot be accomplished by government."

Speaking Thursday at the kickoff luncheon for the 1967 drive at Del Monte Lodge, the senator added that private enterprise can do better for the people in helping them to do better themselves.

A great success story high above Carmel Valley?

The new adult residential community Del Mesa Carmel is a "best-seller". It was quietly opened to the public just a few months ago. A surprising number of residences were sold within weeks. Inquiries came from as far away as New York and Boston. Only one advertisement appeared in local newspapers. But a mailing list of several hundred had been built-up from casual callers who had seen our "meadow in the sky" and our plans. Now even on days when the weather-man turns the other way, people take the beautiful, winding driveway up to the top to see if we have what they've heard we have. We have . . . so they're still coming!

The reasons are simple: an inspiring location 400 feet above Carmel Valley, fresh, imaginative planning and design, the best of everything in carpeting, fixtures, closet space, and all modern housekeeping facilities. Plus views of valley, mountains and the sea which we believe are unmatched in an adult residential community where constant growth and bigger-and-better urbanization are not only unwanted, but impossible. There's only so much room on a mountain-top!

But come and meet us, talk with us, stand where our views are truly inspiring, get the fresh, exciting "feel" of the place. See for yourself! If you'd like a beautiful color brochure before you make the trip, write to: Don McLean, P.O. Box 3688 O, Carmel California 93921, or telephone (408) 624-2732 (Carmel, Calif.)

Community Chapel Guild plans Christmas bazaar

The ladies of the Carmel Valley Community Chapel Guild are now working on their annual Christmas Bazaar to be held in Fellowship Hall, Saturday, Dec. 2, 1967 — from 10 a.m., with a hot dinner for the entire family served from 5 p.m. In addition, a Tea Room will be open all day serving sandwiches and desserts.

Free baby sitting will be available during the day and evening.

Bazaar chairman this year is Mrs. Evelyn Rhoades who will have work meetings every Saturday afternoon in Fellowship Hall from 1:30 to 3:30. The success of the Bazaar is always due to the help given by members and friends of the Guild. Help is needed in the form of time, money, or materials. If anyone likes to sew or assemble things, would like to learn how to make papier mache jewelry, or has items to donate such as new materials, old nylons, white elephants, yarn or plants, please come to these Saturday afternoon work meetings. Further information can be obtained by calling Mrs. Rhoades in the evening at 659-2071.

The Bazaar is the Guild's only major money-raising project.

Booth chairmen will be: Baked Goods and Candies, Mrs. Julie Power; Christmas Decorations, Mrs. Jackie Elliott; New Gifts for Adults, Mrs. Marjorie McKiernon; New Gifts for Children, Mrs. Kay Peters; Plants and Flowers, Mrs. Eva Doelman; White Elephant, Mrs. Martha Vail; Kiddies Five and Dime, Mrs. Vera Stokes; Dinner Ticket Reservations, Mrs. Judy Gayman. Mrs. Frances Wright and Mrs. Nellie Mirani will be in charge of the Tea Room.

CV Women's Club to hold book market

The Carmel Valley Women's Club is holding a "Book Market" Saturday, Oct. 21 from 11 until 4 at the Mid-Valley Shopping Center. Mrs. Robert Angell, chairman of the project promises a wide selection of hardbacks, paperbacks, and a good supply of "who-dun-its" will be found at the used book sale. The booth manned by club members will be located between the Steinmetz Pharmacy and Safeway.

Anyone having books to donate are asked to take them to the Hoisington Real Estate Office next to the General Store or to phone 659-4334 and someone will be happy to call for them.

A fall luncheon was planned by co-hostesses Mrs. John Barry and Mrs. Frank DeAmaral Jr. for the September meeting of the Carmel Valley Women's Club. Following luncheon at the Rancho del Monte Resort, Mrs. Howard Vail was chairman of an afternoon of canasta and bridge.

New member enjoying the event were Mmes. Dorothy Gonzenbach, Warren Douglas, Philip Mothersill, Berle Hufford, Gerold Rowland, Gordon Yates, Douglas Forzani and Robert Malloy.

Guests included Mmes. Clifford Bolgard, Helen Hoisington, Gerry Gerstl, I.J. Daudana, Elbert Wade, Fred Clark, and Miss Barbara Wade.

Lions Ladies night

It was Ladies Night Wednesday at the meeting of the Carmel Valley Lions Club honoring Lion Governor Louie Mamini and his wife, Rose, of San Martin.

Welcomed by Carmel Valley Lions Club president, Richard McKenzie, and his wife, Dorreen, at Lou's Casa Carmela were seventy Lions and their ladies. Among them were ten members and their wives from San Martin; Cabinet secretary John Mahan and his wife, Laura of Santa Clara; Allen Champe, zone chairman, and his wife, Alice Marie, of Carmel, and zone chairman Clyde Hitchcock and his wife, Beth, of the Valley.

District Governor Mamini who spoke after the steak dinner told the assembled, "Having visited 153 clubs in our geographic area, this is numberwise the greatest club in the world!"

OPEN MON-SAT 9-6, evenings by appointment

The kindergarten classes from Tularcitos School and Enid Parmerlee's kindergarteners from Carmelo School celebrated Fire Prevention Week with a visit to the Carmel Valley Fire House.

Fire Chief Chip Collins showed the youngsters, who came in groups of 25, around the station, explained about the equipment and spoke to them about fire safety.

Each child got a red fireman's hat and then went for a ride in the big fire engine.

The annual steak barbecue at Princes Camp last Tuesday was the usual resounding success. Twenty-three members brought their wives and/or gals to eat Rex's delicious steak and corn. The weather was beautiful, and for those who took the mountain road, the evening shadows on the hills of the SDUCV was unusually lovely. There were two guests with wives: King Flemming and Manie Mancebo.

Board of Directors met at the Blue Sky Lodge last Thursday, and took the following action: Approved: minutes; financial statement; final payment of Lt. Gov.'s admin expenses ($40); tabled suggestion for Halloween dance; (new board) approved Harold Fly as the 1968 secretary.

Louise Cardeiro Boyer, who is showing a group of new paintings and drawings until Nov. 7 at the Jean Kellogg Gallery on Del Fino Place, Carmel Valley, speaks of her work as follows:

"Looking back I feel there has been a kind of mainstream to my work, although there appear to have been branches to the river unrelated to that mainstream — This time I wanted the paintings to go farther into depth than ever before — to be not only an individual interpretation of nature (which is always the source), but to be somehow the essence."

Her paintings reflect the experience of a career begun on the East Coast where the artist graduated from the Boston Museum School and went on to study under Hans Hoffman in Provincetown and Carlos Merida in Mexico.

Mrs. Boyer, who is the wife of Gilbert Boyer, pianist and chamber music conductor, has exhibited in many national shows, including the American Water Color Society, the Connecticut Academy of Fine Arts, the Boston Art Festival and the San Francisco Art Annual.

Mexico, Guatemala and Ecuador have honored her with exhibitions as did the Pan-American Union in Washington.

The Kellogg Gallery has announced new hours. It is open from 1 to 5 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday, and from noon to 5 p.m. Sunday. It is closed Mondays.

LOUISE BOYER at the Kellogg

KEITH LINDBERG at the Laky

Carmel artist Keith Lindberg is being presented in a one-man exhibit at the Laky Galleries, Oct. 22 through Nov. 11.

Mr. Lindberg has been receiving steadily growing attention in Carmel for the past five years after professional training at Kansas City Art Institute and at Chicago Art Institute. He is now on the executive board of the Carmel Art Association.

The show will consist of oil paintings with emphasis on landscape and figure studies.

FLANAGAN howls for help. This portrait of a star boarder at the shelter was made by Peter McArthur, son of Dr. and Mrs. Rod McArthur of Carmel Valley Rd.

Peter donated his time and equipment this summer to photograph the waifs at the shelter in an effort to help them with publicity. He is now a student at Humboldt State College and future models for the Outlook feature, "Pet of the Week," will pose for members of Al Weber's MPC photography class.

La Vega Verde

SPCA auction to raise funds for new animal center on donated acreage

La Vega Verde is a small green valley surrounded on three sides by gentle hills and lovely oaks. It covers fifteen and a half acres reaching southward from the Salinas Highway about half a mile west of Los Laureles Grade.

The SPCA has been given five and a half acres as a new building site and the option of leasing, at a nominal fee, the remaining ten acres for use as pasture land and refuge for wildlife.

It is destined to become a center for animal welfare under the direction of the Monterey County SPCA. Future uses could include an animal hospital, a center for training humane officers, boarding kennels, a pet cemetery. A children's zoo has also been suggested. Stables for up to twenty horses are planned as a means of providing much-needed income.

Crowded shelter

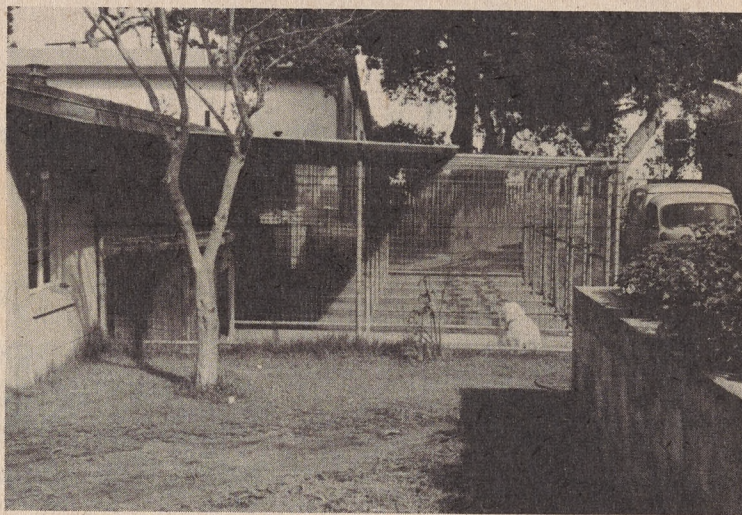

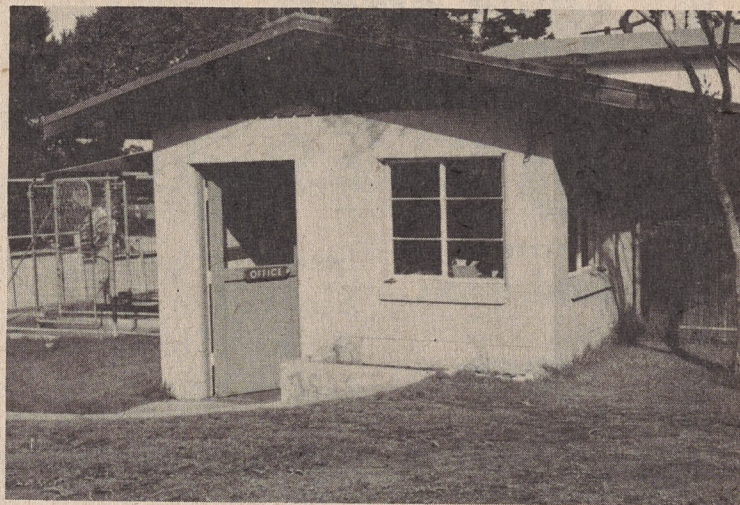

The present shelter at David Ave. and Lottie St. in New Monterey was founded in 1905 with $28 and a great deal of good will.

It was rebuilt in 1950 with 12 fenced-in runs for dogs and six for cats. Cement walls and floors replaced the former rotting and termite-ridden structure. Admittedly this shelter is an enormous improvement upon the first primitive arrangement, but prohibition to expand it by even so much as a lean-to has made it impossible to keep up with the animal population explosion.

Besides more kennels, space for cages for birds and small wild creatures which are brought in, offices and a quarantine ward are needed.

Clearly, it is never possible to find new homes for all, explains Humane Officer Gwen May. The aged, the sick, those too old to adapt to a new life, cannot be placed. But there are the others — young, healthy ... for which good homes could be found in time.

"We are heartsick when, to make room for newcomers, we must shorten the chances of one of these. So we double up the dogs and cats, sometimes 4 to a kennel and ask friends to take over and care for some of the puppies, kittens, rabbits, guinea pigs, mice, monkeys and birds which we are asked to house.

SPCA Animal Shelter at David Ave. and Lottie St. in New Monterey which is literally bursting at the seams to care for the hundreds of unwanted animals brought to it weekly.

And we carry on, buoyed up by the thought that La Vega Verde, our green valley, awaits us."

'Sappy's' helps

"Sappy's" Gift Shop in Carmel, located in Pantilles Court off Dolores (across the street from the Art. Assoc. Gallery) has been one of the mainstays of the SPCA since it opened in the fall of 1965. It is entirely supported by donations of merchandise by friends and is manned by some forty volunteer workers.

To auction treasures

An "auction of Heirlooms and Treasures" will be held Saturday, Oct. 28 which SPCA members hope will give their finances a big boost. They need donations of articles. They also need to sell lots of tickets at $5 (which may be applied on any purchase at the auction).

People with articles to donate may contact SPCA President Irene Palmer, 624-1053, to arrange for pickup or they may leave articles at "Sappy's."

A Post Adobe
On Top of the World

It's what you requested: a long low ranch adobe carefully planned for informal (but never less than luxurious) country living. It's WHERE you requested it: on top of the world: the crest of the ridge between the Carmel Valley and Corral de Tierra - but approached only from the Carmel Valley side by road, and oriented to the valley village for schools, churches, shopping, air strip, and all city conveniences. And it's HOW you said you wanted it: secluded! So secluded that a locked gate and 1-1/2 miles of private road separate you from the outside world.

AND THERE YOU ARE: with the mountains and valleys spread out before you in fabulous panorama. And there you are with every city convenience in your country home!

THE MASTER SUITE has den with Franklin fireplace, luxurious dressing room and bath with sunken tub, floor to ceiling windows to welcome the morning sunshine in the big, airy bedroom. Children's wing has 3 bedrooms and 2 great baths, sound-proofed walls. The living part of the house includes big, comfortable living room with raised hearth fireplace, marvelous built in storage units and a fine stereo system, which is included. A Bar-B-Que serves the kitchen and dining room, and the kitchen and service room have every modern convenience for cooking, cooling, freezing, storing, washing, and drying - and a 22x22 ft. shop is attached to the house.

ALL THIS PLUS detached and complete guest house, ceramics studio and five acres of wonderful country living in the choice Carmel Valley climate for just $110,000. Additional land available, too. Just listed, and just great!

Carmel Currents

New fire inspector job

His efforts resulted in the amendment which now prohibits the drinking of alcoholic beverages on any publicly used exterior grounds of a service station but does not control drinking in the private premises of the station.

Other public places defined in the new law are any school or school grounds, public assembly hall or auditorium, municipal chambers, post office, library, parking lot, Devendorf Park and any future parks, also on any street, right-of-way or alley. The council has the right to permit drinking in any of these places for specific events.

COMMUNITY FOUNDATION ...A report condensing information which took three and a half years to gather recommended that Mayor Steve Grant, City Administrator Hugh Bayless and City Attorney William B. Burleigh be authorized to work with trust officers of Carmel banks in preparation of necessary documents for the creation of a community trust. This material will then be given to the city council for consideration of the form, also advisability, of establishing a community foundation.

The council adopted the report prepared by the mayor and Councilman Whittlesey. It states as follows: "It is desirable that there should be in Carmel an independent nonprofit organization dedicated to the improvement and enhancement of Carmel's physical, moral, social and cultural conditions.

"Such an organization could accept legacies, gifts and endowments of money or property dedicated to its purposes. The city, as a municipal corporation cannot serve in this capacity."

Councilman Gunnar Norberg objected to the last sentence and quoted the California government code as proof that a city council could serve in this capacity.

Whittlesey replied that although this is true, city councils change. The two-year turnover of some members might lead to possible doubts in the minds of donors to the trust in respect to donations not being used in line with the giver's intent. Technical and political difficulties could be avoided by establishment of a nonprofit corporation under the surveillance of the state attorney general.

Councilman Herbert Blanks ascertained that community trusts similar to the one proposed have been created by many cities including San Francisco, Monterey, Cleveland and New York.

CARMEL FIRE INSPECTOR ... Since the resignation of Robert G. Leidig, Carmel has not had a fire marshal. Now the city council proposes to abolish this position and create a new job, that of fire inspector and chief of the bureau of fire prevention.

A Grant-Whittlesey report to the council states, "an effective fire prevention program is essential for public safety in Carmel." This program is to be the responsibility of the man filling the new job in the fire department. Recommended in the report, by an amendment suggested by Councilman Blanks, is the employment of Lee B. McGuckin as fire inspector responsible for fire prevention work and inspection under the direction of Acting Chief James R. Belvail.

A requirement for the job is that the applicant also act as a fire engineer in the department, a job now filled by McGuckin who also, on his own initiative, has prepared himself and undertaken fire prevention work.

The program demanded in the new job encompasses inspection or supervision of residential, commercial and industrial units to determine and enforce compliance with fire safety laws and ordinances. Investigation of causes of fires will also be required as well as conducting public education and information programs, also fire drills in schools, hospitals and convalescent homes.

Requisites for the job are a working knowledge of Carmel's geography including location of mains, hydrants and major fire hazards, also of the rules and regulations of the fire department and city and state fire laws. Knowledge, too, is required of the principles, practices and procedures of modern fire fighting, prevention, inspection and training of fire personnel.

HERBERT HERON YEAR... The council has postponed to a special study session any determination of policy on rentals and uses at Sunset Center. The delay will give councilmen time to study recommendations in the 13-page transcript of the taped talk given to the Carmel Cultural Commission by William B. Lillyman, professional auditorium manager from Monroe, La. Lillyman came to Carmel at the invitation of the commission with a view to providing suggestions for future use and development of the city's municipal cultural and community center.

The postponement also will give councilmen time to study a report on Sunset Center submitted last week by Councilman Gunnar Norberg.

Lillyman recommended higher auditorium rentals at Sunset also Sunset Manager Cole Weston becoming a promoter-manager. In this capacity he would book into the center events to fill gaps in the community's cultural and entertainment schedule also top-level professional seminars and conferences. Lillyman advised a restaurant at Sunset Center, conversion of the gymnasium into a conference exhibit hall and purchase of new auditorium seats.

Norberg's report recommends, "That a year-long program be initiated, organized and coordinated to let us see and to let the community see just what all of us locally could do to implement our own self-devised, all-around community and cultural program. Authority for such an over-all effort would have to be centered in some individual's hands. Even though this would involve an enormous amount of work, I would be willing to assume central responsibility for it.

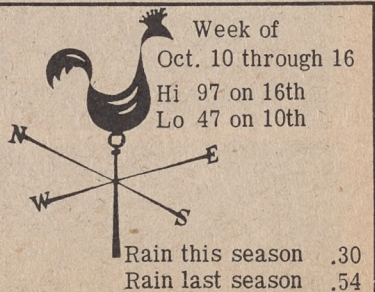

"If such a year-long effort were made, I believe it should be given an appropriate name. My suggestion would be 'Herbert Heron Year in Carmel.'"

Heron is the founder of the Forest Theater, a past mayor of Carmel, actor, poet, dramatist and former bookstore owner who came to Carmel in 1908.

NORBERG ON TAXES ... The council also received for study another Norberg report. In it he recommends that the council send a resolution to State Senator Donald Grunsky and Assemblyman Alan Pattee asking that they seek legislation to make the following change in the assessment law: "That residential property, used by the homeowner as his home, be reassessed only at one of two times, (a) when it changes hands through the sale of property; (b) when title to it passes by inheritance."

SEPARATE REST ROOMS... First reading has been given an ordinance requiring separate toilet facilities for men and women in all new eating and drinking establishments. Such facilities will be required of existing bars and restaurants when approval is sought for repairs, alterations or remodeling in excess of $3,000. Building Inspector Fred Cunningham told the council that recently built complexes lack separate toilet facilities and these developments include many bars and restaurants. One restroom is provided for the entire complex.

TELEVISION CABLE... The city council has adopted a new law controlling television cable service in Carmel. At its November meeting the council will award a new television cable franchise.
